1997 GIRLS TRACK

FINISH LINE

IN THE FAST LANE By Jenni Simmons

Ten minutes before my race, I slip my track shoes onto my bare feet and test them to make sure I've chosen the correct spikes. As they pierce the rubber track, my blood begins to race through my veins. My black spandex shorts and matching top fit snugly around my muscles.

The official calls "176." That's my number. My hands shake. My stomach tingles with an electrical energy. I look down and grab my starting blocks. I stand in a row with seven other girls who are just as determined to win the 400 as I am. My palms sweat.

I hear lane one called. I am in lane three. My chest feels as though it's being compressed by something very heavy that's not allowing me to breathe. Finally my lane is called.

I run with pride to the starting line, set my blocks and look around. I see my friends and family on the sidelines; they're giving me encouragement. I feel unbeatable now. Nothing can stop me.

"Runners! Take your blocks," yells the official. I take a deep breath. The crisp air fills my lungs. I set my blocks to where they feel the most comfortable. I focus on the red track ahead. The sun is beating down on my head, and sweat rolls down my face. I hear the crowd yelling cheers of excitement.

"Set!" My heart feels like it's going to pound out of my chest. One-one thousand, two-one thousand—BANG!

At that very second, I exert every burst of energy I possess. My legs reach for every extra inch I can get to take the lead. I come around the final corner, and I take a deep breath.

I hear the runner behind me, nipping at my heels. I drive my legs and pump my arms. I pull with everything I have.

I see the finish tape. My heart pounds faster and faster. The runner behind me is fading, and I push even harder.

I cross the tape first.

Gradually I slow down. The tape has wrapped itself around my legs. I reach down, pull it up and give it back to the official. I look to the sidelines and see my dad. His glowing smile is filled with pride. He's almost crying.

I go over to him, and he looks at my first-place medal. He looks up at me. "I love you," he says. "Great race."

My dreams come true because I choose to make them happen. R
